

Editor's Pick: Vine Dining

Anna Roth
Seattle Editor

I went to the opening party for The Local Vine on Thursday night: Very, very cool. In case you've been out of the loop, this new Belltown wine bar is so hot right now, you can almost see the smoke. With small plates designed by the much-praised Jason Wilson of Crush and nearly 100 by-the-glass choices (some clocking in at $5, which is good news to me), I can see why. Throw in free Wi-Fi, a cool interior with blonde wood and a fireplace, and you've just created the next living room for the Belltown scenesters.